

Pathways and Portals: Artists Exploring Sense of Place

Saturday, May 11
9 am to 3 pm
Lunch provided

North Branch, Terrebonne Parish Library
4230 West Park Avenue, Gray, Louisiana

Regional artists are invited to a free immersive workshop connecting them to the local environment, bayou culture, and one another. Expect a day filled with hands-on explorations of personal traditions, regional sense of place, and artistic creation. Participants will work individually and collaboratively throughout the day. Facilitators are experienced art and folklife educators with regional and national experience in networking as well as professional development.

Facilitators are Paddy Bowman and Renée Roberts with Local Learning: The National Network for Folk Arts in Education. They will guide participants through discovery of personal and regional traditions as a springboard for creating artwork.

Registration: This workshop is free, but you must register in advance because space is limited. Registration deadline is Monday, May 13. To register, contact Brigid Laborie, Terrebonne Parish Library, blaborie@mytpl.org, or leave a message at 985-876-5861, ext 242. Include your contact details if you leave a message.

For information about this and other workshops, see www.louisianafolklife.org/bayouculture.

www.louisianafolklife.org/bayouculture